What To Do When Kids Fight!

It's hard to listen to kids who fight! Parents feel frustrated, angry, and often helpless. They feel irritated because they have to decide when to ignore fighting and when to try to stop it. Parents can help their children learn to get along and solve their own problems. Usually, kids fight less if adults...

Families in Your Community

Circle of Parents is a BIG FAMILY where you always find something positive for you and your children. I found a true family and don't feel as lonely as I used to be. Now I know, I have support and I can talk about the happy and sad stories about my children and get ideas on how to raise them. Maria Torres-Hernandez
